Building safer communities together

Some exciting news about policing in Torrington!

On the 20th January 2014 two additional officers, Acting Sgt Mick Kearney and PC Adam Williams, started working from Torrington and they are dedicated to the Torrington area in addition to the two officers we already have – PC Mark Simmons and PC Kerry Wilson.

This will mean that Torrington and its rural areas will have 3 PCSOs and 4 PC's allowing us to be more proactive, provide a quicker response and have better coverage 24/7. We also have another officer joining the team later in the Spring.

While all of the officers will be tasked to serve everyone in the community each officer will have responsibility for specific parishes and we will let you know who your local point of contact will be when all officers are in place.

It is hoped that these changes will allow us to provide the best service we can and we all look forward to what we can achieve working together with you.
